- 12552 Axelrad, Arthur M. Jane Austen Caught in the Act of Greatness. A Diplomatic Transcription and Analysis of the Two Manuscript Chapters of Persuasion and the Manuscript of Sanditon. Introduction by David Gilson. For the first time, scholars and fans of Jane Austen can read a complete and accurate transcription of her surviving manuscripts, followed by Axelrad's analysis of her creative genius in process. Axelrad shows she was a process writer - indeed, as he so convincingly demonstrates, she could barely refrain from continuously editing her own work. Beautiful bookplate signed by author. 1stbooks, 2003. Hb, Dj. NEW. $30.00
- 12553 Axelrad, Arthur M. Jane Austen's Sanditon: A Village by the Sea. To accompany the transcription of Sanditon that Arthur Axelrad gave us in Caught in the Act, here he discounts those who would see the fragment as the last gasp of a dying woman. Instead, Axelrad shows that when she began Sanditon, Austen was full of life and hope, applying her creative genius in a new artistic direction. As we pour over the detail in this careful analysis we are brought to a greater appreciation for our loss due to Austen's untimely death. Each nuance of paragraph, sentence, thought, is carefully explored. Also examines the parallels between Sanditon and the other novels, especially Northanger Abbey. Beautiful bookplate signed by author. Authorhouse, 2010. Hb, dj. NEW. $30.00
- 12568 Barker, Gerard A. Grandison's Heirs: The Paragon's Progress in the Late Eighteenth-Century English Novel. Examines Sheridan's Faulkland, Burney's Lord Orville, Inchbald's Dorriforth, Holcroft's Frank Henley, Godwin's Ferdinando Falkland, and Austen's Fitzwilliam Darcy, all in relation to Sir Charles Grandison. Great theme, especially when considering Darcy as anti-hero to Richardson's paragon. AUP, 1985. Hb, dj. USED. $20.00
- 12091 Barr, John and Hilton Kelliher. Jane Austen 1775-1817: Catalogue of an exhibition held in the King's Library.
